

HURRYING TROOPS TO THE FRONT.

Two Hundred More Soldiers Leave This Morning to Fight the Indians at Bear Island.

FIRING CONTINUED ALL NIGHT.

General Bacon Expected to Renew the Attack This Morning. Predicted That He Will Exterminate the Indians.

THE INDIANS PLANNED A MASSACRE.

Walker, Minn., Oct. 7.—There was desultory firing all night on Bear's Island. Indian Agent Tinker is of the opinion that the Indians have been largely reinforced.

Two hundred soldiers were sent to General Bacon this morning.

The only word so far received from the scene of the fighting was Gen. Bacon's small message, giving a list of the casualties yesterday, and saying that the fighting would be resumed.

The officer who left here yesterday to join Bacon stated that he would exterminate the Indians before he stopped fighting.

MASSACRE WAS PLANNED.

No Doubt that Wholesale Slaughter was the Intention of the Red Devils.

Walker, Minn., Oct. 7.—Indian Agent Sutherland, who was with Gen. Bacon at Sugar Point, gives the following account of the conflict up to the time of his leaving for supplies: When the arrest of the two fugitives had been accomplished the Indians, with a profession of friendship, showed the soldiers their tepees and called attention to their neatness and all the time stating "Me good Indian." Gen. Bacon, who has had great experience with the Sioux and other savages, did not take much stock in these professions of friendship and ordered a adjointing tent for any lurking savages, but none was to be seen. They must have been hidden in the thick underbrush and those unaccustomed to searching timber could easily have been deceived, for it was not ten minutes after this that the firing commenced. Had the Indians not contemplated a general massacre they would have fired on the men who were searching the timber.

BRAVE BACON A KENTUCKIAN.

Frankfort, Ky., Oct. 7.—Gen. John M. Bacon, who is reported to have been killed at Bear Island, Minn., in the raid on the Indians, is a native of this county and a brother of Miss Sallie Bacon, of this city. He is related to Mrs. Haycraft and other prominent families of this city. Gen. Bacon enlisted in the army during the civil war as a private. He was promoted from time to time, and became a colonel on the staff of Gen. Sherman. After the war he entered the regular army, and now has the rank of brigadier general, in charge of the department, with headquarters at St. Paul.

The general was not in Santiago, as has been stated, but the Third regiment of regulars, he now commands, was.

Gen. Bacon's first wife was Miss Lobbin, of Frankfort, and his second wife was Miss Forsythe, daughter of Gen. Forsythe, U. S. A. He is a brave and courageous officer and an Indian fighter who has never let a redskin he went after get away.

Realizing the difficulty of obtaining pure goods and appreciating the requirements of the trade, we have in calling attention to our very complete line of

Wines and Liquors

For medicinal purposes only. All our domestic goods are purchased direct from the makers, insuring absolutely pure goods of full strength, at the lowest prices. All imports come through the most reliable importers in this country. An exceptionally full line of the highest grade whiskeys, brandies, wines, rums, both imported and domestic, constantly on hand.

For Medicinal Purposes

These goods are all bottled "in bond," bearing the government stamp, which is a safeguard against their having been mixed or tampered with in any way whatever. We carry a drug-store license, so that physicians are not compelled to write a prescription when recommending wines or liquors to patients.

THE INDIAN WAR IS OVER.

The Treacherous Redskins Fled Before the Troops of General Bacon, Who Returned to the Front and Renewed the Attack This Morning.

LOTHRUP, Minn., Oct. 7.—A special from Walker says that Gen. Bacon arrived there this afternoon saying that he had completely routed the Indians who fled before him. When he left Bear Island white flags were flying all along the shore.

Now that the mimic war is ended the Indians who took part in the uprising will all be punished.

BREATHITT OVERRULED.

The Court of Appeals Decides That the Separate Coach Law is Constitutional.

Decision Rendered in the Case of Robert Lander, of Hopkinsville, Against the Ohio Valley Railroad.

Frankfort, Ky., Oct. 7.—The Court of Appeals today sustained the separate coach law, thus overruling the decision of Judge Jos. Breathitt in the case of Lander vs. the Ohio Valley R. R. Lander sued for damages and Breathitt decided the law unconstitutional.

NEW ARMY CORPS.

Washington, Oct. 7.—Three new army corps will be organized under the command of Generals Wheeler, Breckinridge and Graham. Three of the present army corps will be reorganized.

FEVER SITUATION.

Jackson, Miss., Oct. 7.—There are no new cases of yellow fever. But the weather conditions favor the spread of the disease and new cases are looked for before tonight.

DORA WILL GET MARRIED.

Versailles, Ky., Oct. 7.—Dora Richardson Clay, the divorced wife of General Cassius M. Clay will be married tonight to Riley Brock, an old sweetheart.

WANT TO REMAIN.

Meeting of the Officers of the Second Kentucky Regiment.

Lexington, Ky., Oct. 7.—The officers of the Second Kentucky held a meeting here yesterday to try and have the regiment retained in the service. It is thought that at least a portion of the regiment can be kept in.

RECORD BROKEN.

The Fastest Steamboat Voyage Ever Made From St. Michaels.

Seattle, Wash., Oct. 7.—The steamer Comanah arrived from St. Michaels, Alaska, making a record breaking voyage. She was a little less than ten days in coming down. She brought about forty passengers. Among them are fourteen members of the United States Geological Survey.

The Canadian police are completing the establishment of a chain of police stations along the Upper Yukon from Dawson to Lake Bennett. The stations are about three miles apart.

COMMISSIONER'S JUNKET.

Paris, Oct. 7.—The United States peace commission held an hour's session yesterday morning, after which, at 1 o'clock, accompanied by Major General Merritt, the commissioners were the guests of United States Ambassador Horace Porter, who took them by coach to Versailles.

MANDAMUS FILED.

Coroner Phelps Brings a Suit Against Clerk Graham.

Coroner George Phelps this afternoon filed a mandamus suit against County Clerk Charles Graham to compel him to issue a voucher for $18, which was allowed the coroner by fiscal court yesterday.

It is understood that the amount was garnished by Mr. George Rock, but the coroner claims that this has nothing to do with the clerk issuing the voucher and that he is entitled to the amount allowed him.

The case will not be tried until the approaching term of circuit court, when the question of whether the amount is subject to attachment or garnishment will be settled. Attorney Wheeler Campbell brought the suit.

If you want Radiant Home stoves Scott Hardware Co. are headquarters for them.

THE THIRD KENTUCKY.

It Has Been Ordered to Join Gen. Joe Wheeler's New Corps at Columbus, Ga.

Wheeler's Camps Will Probably Be Sent to Cuba Soon to Do Garrison Duty There.

Washington, Oct. 7.—The Third Kentucky has been ordered to join Gen. Joe Wheeler's brigade at Columbus, Ga. This looks like this regiment will soon go to Cuba to do garrison duty.

PARIS EXCITED.

Paris, Oct. 7.—The morning papers say that Secretary Day cabled to the president at Washington that peace negotiations were about to be broken off. The report caused a great sensation.

ALLEGED VICTORIES.

Madrid, Oct. 7.—An official dispatch from Hilo, Philippine Islands, reports that the landing of the troops there caused a panic among the insurgents, and that 300 muskets, four cannons, a quantity of ammunition and a flag were captured. In addition, eighteen Spanish prisoners were released and the insurgents were dispersed. The bulk of them withdrew to the mountains and some of them surrendered.

KILLED BY A TRAIN.

A Farmer of Hickman County Killed Near Mayfield.

His Buggy Was Struck by the Cannon Ball and Destroyed.

J. K. Jackson, a farmer of Hickman county, was struck by the cannon-ball this morning about 2 o'clock six miles below Mayfield on the I. C. and instantly killed.

He was driving along, the track being obscured by a hill, when the train came along and struck him. The horse was killed, the buggy demolished and he was hurled several feet away and badly mangled.

HORSE FOUND.

Rev. Johnston's Horse Was Not Stolen, Evidently.

Officer Gray this morning discovered the horse supposed to have been stolen from the stable of Rev. H. B. Johnston, of the Broadway M. E. church, night before last, complacently rummaging on West Court street.

The animal seems only to have strayed, and was restored to his owner.

CONVICTS ESCAPE.

They Were Seen Near the Tennessee River Bridge.

Two convicts from the Eddyville penitentiary escaped last night, and were seen today about daylight near the Tennessee river bridge. One wore a grey checked suit, and both were white.

A reward of $100 is offered for the capture of either of them, or for each of them. Detective J. K. Greer was notified and went after them.

PROPERTY SALES.

Master Commissioner Has a Sale Monday.

Master Commissioner J. Will Fisher will have a sale of property Monday morning at the court house. Among other things, he will sell two lots on Afton Heights, and one on Adams between Seventh and Eighth.

PUMP NOT WORKING.

The water company, contrary to expectations, has not started its big pump, owing to the fact that the steam valves are put in wrong, and new ones had to be sent for. It may be a week or two before the ones arrive.

Best ten-cent whiskey in the city at Lagomarsino's.

SUIT ON HORSE.

Ida Thompson Brings a Joint Suit for $500 Damages.

Her Horse Was Killed—Other Suits Filed in the Circuit Court.

Ida Thompson, colored, this morning filed in the circuit court a suit against the East Tennessee Telephone company and the Paducah Street Railroad company for $500 damages. She alleges that her horse was killed by a live wire, on North Fourth street, several days ago, which was due to the negligence of the defendants. She values her horse at $75, and the remainder of the amount asked is for injury to business.

L. A. Smith and others filed a suit in the circuit court yesterday to settle an estate. James Burns and others are the defendants.

MALICIOUS CUTTING.

This Is Charged Against Robert Wilhite, a White Man.

He Is Alleged to Have Cut H. J. Lehnhard This Morning.

H. J. Lehnhard, a well known iron worker, was painfully injured by Robert Wilhite, who was drunk, this morning. Down about the ways, Wilhite, it is said, was drunk, and assaulted the old fellow with his knife. The most painful wound was in the cheek, which was inflicted, Marshal Collins thinks, by the "jaw" of the knife. It is said that Wilhite would have killed the other if he had not been prevented by outside assistance.

He was arrested by Officer Frank Harlan this morning and committed to the lockup to await trial tomorrow morning in the police court.

MEMORIAL RESOLUTIONS.

Resolutions of respect on the death of Stratton S. Chiles:

Whereas, The Great Commander of the Universe has in his infinite wisdom called from among us the soul of our comrade Stratton S. Chiles, whose death occurred at Camp Thomas, Ga., July 23, 1898, therefore be it Resolved, By company K, Third regiment Kentucky infantry, U. S. V., that in his death this company has sustained an irreparable loss, and while we bow to the decree of Omnipotence we regret the tragedy which deprives us of the associations of our comrade.

Resolved, That the noble cause to which our comrade had devoted his young life, and his strict adherence and obedience to his duties which brought him to his untimely death has endeared him to us, and builded for him a monument more enduring than marble or bronze, and only when the scrolls of the heavens shall have been effaced from the mind, shall the faithful and dutiful remembrance of our comrade be lost to memory.

Resolved, That in his daily associations in camp with his comrades he was affable, congenial and pleasant, and it may be said of him that the sunshine of his presence cast a halo of contentment around the monotony of our camp life, and made him beloved by all.

Resolved, That a page of our daily roster be set apart to commemorate his memory, and a copy of these resolutions be forwarded his family.

FRENCH'S PALACE.

French's Floating Palace, in all its pristine glory, arrived this morning and is at the wharf. It gave a creditable street parade, and will have a performance tonight. There will doubtless be a large crowd out.

FOR A BREACH OF THE PEACE.

Robt. Ablett, of the county, will be tried tomorrow morning before Judge Tully on a charge of making indecent proposal to Mrs. McManus, of the county. He was arrested yesterday afternoon.

Don't experiment, but get the old reliable Plantation Chill Cure.

STREET CONTRACT.

Mr. E. C. Terrell will likely be awarded the contract for grading and graveling Tenth street from Husbands to Court street, his bid, opened up to the others by the street committee, being 64 cents per foot. The committee has awarded him the contract, and the council will doubtless ratify the action.

NEWS OF THE RIVERS.

The City of Sheffield is due from Tennessee river for St. Louis.

Weather still continues hot. Ohio falling, also Cumberland and Wabash rivers.

The Dick Fowler departed for Cairo on time this morning with fair business.

The City of Paducah is expected this afternoon from St. Louis for Tennessee river.

Price's floating opera boat will be left off the docks tomorrow. A quick and good job was given her.

The steamer Tennessee leaves at 5 p. m. tomorrow on her return to Tennessee river, Capt. King Hale in command.

French's floating opera, the New Sensation, towed by the steamer Ruth, arrived this morning from Cairo. He will exhibit tonight at the foot of Broadway.

The steamer Tennessee, out of Tennessee river, arrived early this morning with a good trip. She had considerable freight, to be reshipped by rail at Brooklyn.

The mail and express packet, Joe Fowler, is delayed by unfavorable weather and low water, and will not report here until 5 o'clock this afternoon. She will return to Evansville shortly after her arrival here.

At the Coal Exchange yesterday in Pittsburgh, bets were freely made and taken that there will be barge water in the Ohio at that place Oct. 31st and 9th. The parties who bet on the rise are very apt to get left in the consummation, as the river was falling there this morning.

The hull of the largest railroad transfer boat which has ever been floated started on its journey to New Orleans from Dubuque, Ia., last Monday, consigned to the Texas & Pacific railroad. It will be used to transfer railroad trains, having for that purpose the largest capacity on record. The hull was constructed by the Iowa Iron works. It is 300 feet long and 56 feet beam. It weighs 850 tons, and cost $85,000.

The hull has been fitted for a double track, with a capacity of 16 cars, but if desired two more tracks may be added, which will give it a capacity of 32 cars at one time says the Memphis Schmitzer.

BOYNTON REITERATES.

The General Says Stories That There Was Purposely Inflicted Neglect in Hospitals Is False.

Washington, Oct. 7.—Gen. H. V. Boynton concluded his testimony before the War Inquiry Commission yesterday. In reply to charges formulated by Surgeon Milo B. Ward, of Kansas City, who said in a letter to the commission that the camp was without drainage; that the water was unfit to drink; that there was no proper food, and that all of the 45,000 men in the camp were suffering from intestinal diseases, Gen. Boynton said:

"Of course, in so large a camp some painful things must necessarily happen. For instance, when measles broke out, the hospitals were quite crowded. But to say there was any purposely inflicted neglect is," he declared, as false as it is possible to be."

BAPTISTS MEET.

West Kentucky and Tennessee Association in Session at Fulton.

Fulton, Ky., Oct. 7.—West Kentucky and Tennessee Baptist Association is in session here. About one hundred delegates and as many more visitors are in attendance. J. N. Hall was elected moderator; W. H. McMurray, clerk, and Cos Taylor, treasurer. Nearly every church in the association has adopted the gospel mission plan.

RIGHT STEP.

SCHOOL NOTES.

Three of the Teachers Ill at One Time—Big Attendance.

The Pupils Are Anxiously Awaiting the Arrival of Cool Weather.

Supt. McBroom has been very busy this week, and the attendance has been above the average in the public schools. There have been three of the teachers ill, Misses Hand and Acker, and Mrs. Wilcox. The last two are out again, but Miss Hand is still ill. There are but two substitutes regularly elected by the board, but Miss Fannie Grigsby, who is an excellent teacher, is employed by Supt. McBroom whenever necessity demands it, as it did yesterday.

There will shortly be put on foot a move to increase the high school library, which is not growing as rapidly as is desired. It is one of the best in the city, and one of the most important, as it is used as a source of pleasure as well as profit by the hundreds of pupils of the schools.

Supt. McBroom's plan is to create a fund to be devoted exclusively to the library, and the best way to do this would be by setting aside as a fund, the money paid into the schools for tuition. There are about fourteen or fifteen non-residents who pay five dollars a month tuition, and this would give the schools nearly one hundred new books a month. The superintendent's plan is a good one.

There was a meeting of the teachers of the First and Second grades yesterday afternoon at the high school building, but no action of importance was taken. These grades are the most crowded in the city.

There is very little sickness in the public schools, and the pupils are getting down to work rapidly. When the weather becomes more pleasant, study will be more successful, and all the pupils are looking forward to cooler weather with a great deal of anticipation. They find it hard work to study in hot weather, and the teachers find it difficult to get much work out of them.

About two or three square yards of plastering fell in Supt. McBroom's office this morning about 8 o'clock, and narrowly missed him. His office is now located in the Brooks infirmary, where he is comfortably situated. He now has a telephone in his residence, as well as his office.

NEW MACHINE.

Supt. Erler Goes to Chicago to Look After One for Sewerage.

Supt. Wm. Erler, of the sewerage, left at noon for Chicago, to complete arrangements for a large ditching machine for the sewerage work. He stated to a reporter that the reports relative to the machine are very encouraging, and he goes up to Chicago to personally inspect the work it does, and if it suits him, will have one here in two weeks.

He will stop over in Terre Haute on his way back.

OUR ADVANCE FEARED.

European Powers Imagine the United States Will Not Stop With the Philippines.

Paris, Oct. 7.—Comments on the United States' gentle participation in Chinese affairs continue in several of the morning papers. Denis Guibert, in the Figaro, offers an explanation of the sending of American warships to China that is worthy of note, considering its source. He says that perhaps President McKinley wishes, in return for the incontestable services rendered to America by Great Britain in the late war, so to dispose part of the Asiatic fleet of the United States as to afford the English representative at Peking a pretext for immediate interference or his government a precedent for future action.

La Liberté says that the Americans, who by the position they have taken in the Pacific are becoming a colonial power, do not mean to be left out on the day when the big Chinese cake is cut up.

Still another aspect of the affair is presented in a dispatch from Madrid which says that the impending naval demonstration forebodes an Anglo-American understanding, the object of which is to prevent opposition on the part of the powers to American designs in the Philippines. The real motive of the telegram is revealed in the portion which declares that this manifestation carries the idea of menace against France and Russia—an assertion plainly meant to have an influence on the deliberations of the Paris peace commission.

BRILLIANT BALL.

Mrs. Potter Palmer Plans for a Great Benefit for United States Heroes.

Chicago, Oct. 7.—Mrs. Potter Palmer is planning the most brilliant "Charity Ball" ever dreamed of in the Windy City. She thinks she will raise $25,000 with which to purchase a splendid testimonial for the brave American heroes, soldiers and sailors, who won victory in Cuba and the Philippines. The date will be one night during jubilee week this month.

President McKinley has been asked to lead the grand march, and it is believed that he will accept the honor. Mr. and Mrs. Grover Cleveland and Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Harrison, Mr. and Mrs. Lyman J. Gage and other distinguished guests will be given places at the head of the column, following the President. Five thousand invitations are to be issued. Among those to be specially honored in this respect are Mrs. John A. Logan, Mrs. U. S. Grant, and Mrs. James A. Garfield, and Miss Helen Gould, the "angel of the army," whose devotion to the sick and wounded soldiers at Camp Wikoff has prompted a popular request for special recognition.

DIAMONDS STOLEN.

Mrs. Armour Gardner Loses a Valuable Cross of Gems.

Was Hidden Under the Bureau—Valued at $350—A Clue.

Mrs. Armour Gardner, of North Fourth street, missed a fine diamond cross last night. It contained 28 diamonds and was worth $350. It was evidently stolen.

The diamonds were placed in a small white box and shoved under a bureau by Mrs. Cox, who intended to take them to a jeweler and have one of the diamonds, which was loose in the box, reset. Last night when she looked for the diamonds she was astonished to find them gone.

The bureau sat up stairs, and a person could readily see under it and discern the box from outside the up stairs window. The house is undergoing repairs, and the only solution to the mystery of the robbery was that some one mounted the ladder that set up near the window, and while upon a level with it, accidentally discovered the box and took it. There were other diamonds in the house, but they were not touched, indicating that the discovery of the other ones was accidental.

It is very fortunate that there was not more jewelry in the box that contained the diamonds, as it was used for the particular purpose of keeping the family jewelry, and the remainder was removed from it only a day or two before.

Marshal Collins thinks that perhaps the diamonds were misplaced. Up to press time there had been no developments in the case.

SHOT AT A BURGLAR.

Mr. Arthur Maybeyer Drove One Away Wednesday.

Mr. Arthur Maybeyer, of South Third street, was awakened the other night by a noise in the rear of his house, and went out to investigate. He found a man in the act of getting in the house, and fired a shot or two at him, but without apparent effect.

THE BABY ACT.

If ever a newspaper in Kentucky pleaded the baby act, the Louisville Dispatch did so one day this week when its directors made an appeal for the sympathy of the public by stating that the merchants of Louisville were boycotting that paper. The publishers of the Dispatch wonder that the merchants of Louisville do not patronize that paper, when its every issue is reeking with insults aimed at the sound money men of that city and Kentucky. Louisville had all the daily papers it could support before the Dispatch entered the field to fill an alleged "long felt want." The Dispatch introduced at once those methods into its dealings with the public that have made Tennessee politics a stench in the nostrils of the American people. For day in and day out, week after week and month after month, the readers of the Dispatch were exhorted to patronize only those Louisville merchants who advertised in the Dispatch, thus attempting to boycott every merchant in Louisville who refused to use its columns. As that plan has failed to work, that sheet now says that the merchants are doing a little boycotting themselves. There is not the slightest probability that the merchants of Louisville ever dreamed of a boycott on the Dispatch, but the facts of the case are that they are simply patronizing papers of known circulation and of long established influence and are letting the Dispatch paddle its own canoe.

When the Dispatch was started notice was served on the Courier-Journal to prepare to die, that its days were numbered. But the people failed to appreciate the grand stand play and the C-J still lives. The old Courier-Journal may get a little wobbly on its politics and lose its bearings, but its publishers know how to get out an up-to-date paper, all of which cannot be said of the Dispatch.

sewer, and a commercial line of poles, kept well painted, would be a source of pride to our citizens and even the chronic grumblers would have nothing to say.

COL. CHARLES F. DICK.

The nomination of Col. Chas. F. Dick for congress, by the republicans of the Nineteenth Ohio district which the district made famous by Joshua Giddings, Benjamin Wade and Jas. A. Garfield, is a most deserved recognition of the services of one of the ablest and most loyal members of the republican party.

Col. Dick is at present the secretary of the republican national committee, and as such has been of inestimable service to the party, and much of the success of the late national campaign was due to his marked ability as an organizer and a leader. Col. Dick also had charge of the recent senatorial campaign of Mark Hanna, when the will of the republicans of Ohio was in danger of being defeated by a few bolters.

When the war with Spain began Colonel Dick organized a regiment from the President's home district, which was known as the "President's Own." This regiment saw service at Santiago, and Col. Dick thus is one of the few volunteer officers who has actually been under Spanish fire.

In honoring Col. Dick the republicans of Ohio honor themselves. He is not only a loyal republican, a skillful political strategist, but he is an illustration of the reserve power of the American people. He was reared in obscurity, but by sheer force of his intellect and ability he has risen to a most prominent and influential place in a great political party.

Capt. J. E. Williamson's name was added to the roll of honor, or, in other words, to the membership of the Commercial and Manufacturers' Association, last night. This is an example worthy of repetition by other of our business men who have not as yet joined the association. It can be truthfully said that Capt. Williamson has devoted more time to the upbuilding of Paducah than any other man living. He has faithfully served as councilman under every mayor Paducah has had except two. He has spent his time and money freely in every movement that tended to upbuild the city, and now don't stand back on what he has done, but comes forward voluntarily and joins, saying that, seeing the membership fee fixed at an amount that seems to mean business, and feeling that it was a move in the right direction, he wanted to contribute his mite in the interest of the city he loves so well.

The administration will recommend to congress the revival of the grade rank of Rear Admiral George Dewey, now in command of the Asiatic squadron. Secretary Long has made the positive announcement that he intends to recommend that the grade of admiral be revived and that rank be conferred on Rear Admiral Dewey. Such action on the part of the administration will heartily meet the approbation of the public. That Rear Admiral Dewey is the naval hero of the war goes without a protest.

It was remarked by a new comer a few days since that Paducah should be put in a creditable condition for inspection before strangers are invited to come and look at our city. This certainly is true and if our city council will do something except to meet, allow bills and adjourn, the city could be gotten in shape and made a credit to the push and enterprise of her citizens, instead of a disgrace. Wake up councilmen, you are now representing a city of 24,000 inhabitants and you should keep up with the procession.

This Indiana state association of Friends, this week adopted resolutions endorsing the Czar's proposed scheme of a general European disarmament. President McKinley was officially notified of the action taken. The Czar will doubtless feel greatly encouraged when the news is broken to him.

Is the matter of war heroes Gen. Fitzhugh Lee looms up very high in the estimation of the public. He was given a rousing reception at New York the other evening.

THIRD KENTUCKY 'SHINERS

Several Arrests Made at Lexington on a Grave Charge.

The Lexington Herald of yesterday says:

Tuesday night five men in the Third Kentucky were arrested for selling whiskey at Camp Hamilton. An officer of the Third engineers discovered the men with some whiskey measures and glasses in the blacksmith's shop of the Third Kentucky, which is near the corral of the Third Kentucky and the Third engineers.

The men arrested were Blacksmith Caden, Wagoner Rocco, of Co. D; Cook Wilson, of Co. C; Sergeant Joe Robb and a civilian whose name was not learned.

The men were placed in the guard house, with the exception of Sergeant Robb, who was released, as he proved that he had just stopped in while passing.

Whiskey has been furnished here for some time to the corral men and a number of soldiers of each regiment. It is considered a serious offense and will be seriously dealt with.

WILL GET HIS PENSION.

A Washington dispatch to the Chicago Record says:

The dark side of the war was illuminated by a little incident the other day. Jesse B. Gates, of Highwood, Ill., is a private in battery A, 4th artillery, and claims the credit of having fired the first cannon shot in the battle of Santiago. The Spaniards punished him by shooting off his upper jaw. He is just out of the hospital, has been discharged from the army and is here to make application for a pension of $45 a month. At the pension office they placed his papers on file, but in the regular order of things will not reach them until the next century. Thinking he ought to have better attention he went to the white house and told his story to a group of newspaper men who hunt the balls of that historic mansion. While they were talking with him Secretary Alger came along. Mr. Price, of the Washington Star, hailed him and said: "Mr. Secretary, here is a man who deserves your attention."

The secretary hearkened to the tale of the soldier, dived into his pocket, pulled out a card and handed it to Gates, saying: "Give that to the messenger at the door of the President's room upstairs."

Gates followed instructions and was admitted immediately to the cabinet room, where he told his story to the President and chatted pleasantly with him for half an hour or more. In the meantime Col. Montgomery was working the telephone and sending instructions to the war department and the pension office to put through the Gates pension case promptly. In a few days he will get his money.

Lieutenant Stewart and Mr. D. C. Wilcox Now Wear the Horns.

The Elks Will Probably Go to Cairo in a Body, With a Band.

Lieut. Alf Stewart, of company K, Third Kentucky regiment, who is here on a furlough, and Mr. D. C. Wilcox, were initiated into the Benevolent and Protective order of Elks last night, at an enthusiastic meeting.

"The Elks are preparing to go to Cairo during the street fair, and make a great display. Mr. Saunders Fowler has tendered them the freedom of the steamer Dick Fowler, and the day will be fixed later. A band will likely be taken down by the members, and a large number of them will go down. They will spend one day at the fair, and although there is no Elks lodge in Cairo, they will no doubt be well received by the hospitable people."

EVOLUTION OF THE MIND.

A Principle of Biology and the Inevitable Deduction.

It is a recognized law in biology that "function precedes structure." To define this law more exactly, we should say that function precedes the differentiation of the organ on which it depends. There is a certain work to be done, and a certain body of cells are set apart sooner or later to do it. Just as blowing was done in some fashion before the invention of the plow, so in some manner respiration was accomplished before the development of gills and lungs. Something of mental action came before there was ever an organized brain.

In the animals of one cell, or protozoa, breathing and digestion are each performed by the whole body. In the division of labor or specialization which arises in the higher or many-celled animals, certain alliances of cells or tissues are set apart for respiration alone, and certain others for digestion, while other functions of animal life are relegated to still other cell alliances. Each organ in turn is released from all functions except its own.

Irritability, or the response to external stimulus, is an attribute of all living organisms. In the method and degree of response variations occur. These variations favorable to the division of labor and the adaptation of the animal to its surroundings are seized and fixed by natural selection. In this way, on the basis of a diffused function, an organ is built up and the organ itself is specialized and perfected.

The mind and consciousness of man grow out from the irritability of the lower animals. They are developed through series of successive differentiations and integrations. All the higher animals are colonies of coordinated cells. In such colonies of units the functions of sensation, thought, and motion are relegated to series of the most sensitive and most highly organized cells. This alliance of cells is adequate for the work it has to perform. The brain is always adequate for the mind, for the one is the organ, the other the function, and the development of the two must go on together.—David Starr Jordan, in Appleton's Popular Science Monthly.

WINE OF CARDUI

FOR ALL WOMEN

Nine-tenths of all the pain and sickness from which women suffer is caused by weakness or derangement in the organs of menstruation. Nearly always when a woman is not well these organs are affected. But when they are strong and healthy a woman is very seldom sick.

Is nature's provision for the regulation of the menstrual function. It cures all "female troubles." It is equally effective for the girl in her teens, the young wife with domestic and maternal cares, and the woman approaching the period known as the "Change of Life." They all need it. They are all benefited by it.

For advice in cases requiring special directions, address: Wine of Cardui, The Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn.

THOS. J. COOPER, Toledo, Ohio, says: "My wife suffered from very irregular and painful menstruation and could not relieve her. Wine of Cardui quickly cured her and also helped my mother through the Change of Life."

THE NEGRO MEMORY

Two Remarkable Examples—An Arkansas Dandy's Feat.

Everyone who heard Blind Tom knows that conscious intelligence did not influence his reproductions of sounds—that he was but a sound-recording and sound-reproducing machine. The enormous capacity of his memory was a phenomenon of secondary importance. Its wonderful exactitude was what most impressed reflective minds. The St. Louis Globe Democrat correspondent has recently come upon two minor but noteworthy examples of this same gift.

Jim Caisson is an idle, ignorant negro of about 30 years, who hangs around various hamlets in Mississippi and Crittenden counties in Arkansas. He works a little, upon dire necessity, but has no vocation unless it be dice throwing. He has never been seen with paper or book in hand, and his most intimate associates say he cannot read. But last fall Jim was persuaded to endure a few days' labor in loading cars with lumber. He and his fellows chatted almost incessantly, the intervals being filled with snatches of song. One day every member of the crew, except Jim, had gotten off some favorite riddle or song or story. When the diversion of the company had devolved upon him, he started in promptly in dignified, recitative tone. Of course his comrades gave him "the floor." He rambled on for five minutes before your correspondent comprehended that Jim was getting off one of Joel Chandler Harris' best "Uncle Remus" stories—the "Tar Baby"—and in very artistic style, too. As Jim proceeded the astonished white man became more and more keenly appreciative of an elocutionary treat. It was to be expected that Jim would manage the "dialect" all right, but he did more—he gave every phrase its due rhetorical value, and employed all the little elocutionary tricks of a trained public reader. Nor did he, as far as the narrator's memory serves, omit a single phrase of this long and complex "Uncle Remus" fable. If Jim had devoted weeks to its rehearsal it was really a wonderful performance for an illiterate negro. When the story was done your correspondent inquired:

"Jim, have you read Joel Chandler Harris' book?"

"Joe Chamber Harris? Who's he?"

"Why the man who wrote that story, and a lot of others like it."

"No, white folks; I's nevah read nuffin like dat."

"Well, where did you learn the 'Tar Baby' then?"

"Oh, dat stuff, white folks, was what I heard in one of dese here talking machines down to Jericho" (a near-by village).

"How many times did you hear it?"

"Only once—but cost a nicker, and I jist had de price."

The writer took some pains to ascertain whether Jim had really learned this complicated composition in southern folk-lore by once hearing it, and all the testimony went to show that the fellow had had but one chance, and that was when a white wagon showed a stand at Jericho, near where Jim was picking cotton, and that the dandy had spent his last nickel on this phonograph entertainment.

The other story in point comes from the Hotel Kiech, at Nettleton, Ark. Last November a traveling man brought in a newspaper and read an hour or two before supper. He left it on the office table when he went out. Presently a negro stable hand came in, and picking up the paper he seemed to read aloud a most graphic and florid account of the Johnstown flood.

The breaking of the great dam; the wild race of the messenger of warning; the awful development of the calamity with its detailed horrors were narrated as from the practical pen of a gifted newspaper correspondent. It ran on for more than a column, and closed with a gloomy forecast of the succeeding day's developments. When the negro had finished his performance he clapped on his hat and went about his duties. Another traveling man, curious to know how such an ancient paper came to be in the hotel office in such good condition, caught it up, and found that it was a copy of that day's issue, and contained not one line about the Johnstown flood.

He hunted up the negro and had no trouble in getting him to admit that he had committed this striking descriptive composition by hearing it read once as a piece of news in a cotton plantation commissary store. Then he recited it at every opportunity.

The Author—Have your examiners passed on my new play in three acts?

The Manager—Yes, I have had three critics read it, and each has decided in its favor.

The Author—So you will produce it?

The Manager—Unfortunately, each insists that one act should be cut out.

The Author—O, that can be done. The Manager—Alas, each critic of the three insists on cutting out a different act.—Judy.

LET US HAVE PEACE

"Peace hath her victories no less renowned than war."

"To the victors belong the spoils."

To our customers belong the profits this week. We have met the enemy and we've got 'em.

WE HAVE SILENCED THE FORKS OF HIGH PRICES with the bargains we sold to the trade. Our figures, at all times the LOWEST, now knock all the rest in the shade. From our dress goods may yet be selected some choice things in hot weather stuff, on which we won't quote any prices, though others do that for a bluff. These goods you can have as you wish them; yourself make the prices to suit. And when you have spent a few dollars you get a fine picture to boot. We are selling the handsomest DRESS SKIRTS ever sold in this end of the state; for less than the goods can be bought at, all home made and right up to date. Our LADIES WEAR pleases the fairest, and looks lovely on creatures less fair. Our styles, which are ever the rarest, "are charming," fair women declare. And the men folks never forget us, when needing NICE SHIRTS and FINE SHOES. They know we keep the assortment from which they can easily choose.

Our SHOES are the best and cheapest on top of the earth—or below—and every last pair is as "solid" as the rocks in the Forts of Morro. You may fancy this quite out of reason, but a trial will prove it is true. Just to wind up for the season, FORTY CENTS buys a LOW-QUARTER SHOE.

IN GAITERS and BUTTONS and LACES we can fit every foot to a "T." "Cousin George, how dainty your feet look!" "I wear Dorian's shoes—don't you see?"

Rich people are pleased with the beauty of our LINENS, LACE CURTAINS and RUGS, and other folks think it a duty to follow the taste of "big bugs."

Our trade is increasing and healthy—our prices creating a mass of buyers. The trade of the wealthy, and the poor we have always with us.

OUR PICTURES—the GEMS of EMERALDS—in every "sweet home" ought to be, when just for a few dollars' purchase, you're welcome to some of them free.

All will admit the above contains "more truth than poetry."

Everybody come to this winding-up sale of the season.

WRITTEN AT RANDOM.

A young insurance agent named Louis Alexander, whose home is in Memphis, had an unenviable experience in Mississippi a day or two ago. He is now in the city, and has not yet gotten over his fright. He was at a station below Canton, Miss., when one of his friends, a man with whom he had been sleeping and traveling, died suddenly. The inspector from Vicksburg and several doctors held an autopsy, and Mr. Alexander was present. He was horrified when they pronounced it, in his presence, a case of yellow fever.

His alarm was doubtless well founded, when it is remembered that he had been sleeping and traveling with the man. He made a bee line for the north, and knowing that Paducah is out of the fever belt, stopped here.

He called on a local doctor the first thing, and was considerably excited, but was informed that there was no danger, as yellow fever could not be contracted, even under the greatest exposure, except when the environments and the person's system are favorable to its contraction. He is now somewhat calmed, but has had little time to think of any one's insurance but his own.

There was a suicide at the Union depot yesterday afternoon. Agent George Warfield was sitting at his desk, when he was startled by the sound of something flying against the ceiling. He looked up and saw a large "yellow hammer," which had come in the window, and could not find its way out. It darted about for a few moments, and then gave one last terrible lunge against the glass and fell dead. It was delivered over to the depot cat for disposal.

The hamburger steak man, after a summer's vacation, has again appeared on the streets, and there are several odiferous stands on the corners. The germs that nightly float from the small structures remind one of many a harrowing nightmare, but the steak man prospers just the same, and continues to sell bad dreams in broken doses, at five cents apiece.

A novel bet was made on the market this morning, and a reporter happened to be near at the time to witness it. A farmer made the remark that it rained on the first of the month, and that as a result it would rain fifteen times this month. Another ridiculed such superstition, and declared that it didn't make any difference whether it rained on the first of the month or not, he'd bet there were not fifteen rains this month. They first disputed, and then bet five dollars on it. It remains to be seen how Jupiter Pluvius is going to treat the plungers. There have already been four rains since the month began, leaving 24 days in which to have 11 rains. You pay your money and take your choice.

A well known man came down town the other evening about 11 o'clock, and when asked what he was doing out at that time of night, replied that he couldn't sleep. His friends have discovered why he couldn't sleep. He retired only a few minutes before and began to doze. Somebody down stairs opened a door, and the draft slowly swayed to the door of his room. On the side nearest the wall there was suspended a night shirt, and as the door gradually moved it became visible. When the gentleman was awakened by the noise, instead of the open door, he saw before him a headless object in white that recalled ghastly visions of the "Headless Horseman" of Sleepy Hollow. That Washington Irving wrote about. His hair stood erect, and as soon as he could do enough clothing to justify his appearance in public, he cautiously climbed out the window to the roof of a veranda and left the wraith that had confronted him. He did not go back until next day, and when he ascertained what it was that had occasioned him such fright, he had to tell the story on himself to explain why he staid out all night.

Young men who contemplate marriage say that there is nothing so horrible

A DUEL IN THE SNOW.

Celebrated Picture Represents a Scene in Real Life.

Everyone has seen the engraving of Jerome's beautiful but sadly effective picture, "A Duel in the Snow," says a writer in the Westminster Gazette. Through the mist of early morning one antagonist is lying on his back on the sward, while his adversary, leaning on a friend's arm, is slowly walking away from the scene of the encounter. Both are wearing the menacing costume of a Pierrot. In a thicket a carriage waits to drive off with the successful opponent.

There is every reason to believe from recently disclosed information by M. Alfred Darimon, that in portraying on canvas that impressive episode, the artist was not influenced by solely imaginative caprice, but that he has reproduced a scene in real life.

The facts are as follows: The duels were of public instruction, under the second empire, and M. D. D., a well-known journalist on the staff of one of the most influential newspapers in the north of France. When the duel occurred both were studying for the bar. One Shrove Tuesday, they, in company with friends, had repaired to a restaurant on the boulevard, with a view of enjoying a good dinner, and afterward of going to the masquerade ball at the opera. They all agreed to go as Pierrots. As they all wore masks, some one suggested that they should adopt some distinctive sign by which they could recognize one another in the crowd. D. D. suggested that they should pin a label bearing a number to their backs. The idea was unanimously adopted, and D. D. prepared the label accordingly. While so doing a diabolical idea came into his head. It was carnival time; why should he not have his little joke? When it was Jules Brame's turn to have a ticket pinned to his back his friend D. D. had written in large letters beneath the number, "I am Jules Brame." One can easily imagine what was the result. No sooner had Brame set foot in the main passage to the premiere galerie than he was followed by a lady wearing a mask, who, on his preparing to enter a private box, cried out: "I wish you success, Jules Brame." Later on, reentering the passage he was surrounded by a group of masqueraders, who with one voice shouted out: "Good-day, my dear Brame." That proved to him that he was known to everyone, although he was puzzled to understand how it could be.

Passing in front of a box opener the girl burst out laughing. He inquired angrily what she was laughing at. "Why," she replied, "I am laughing at the funny idea which led you to pin a label on your back with your name on it." And suiting the action to the word, she unpinned the label and handed it to him.

Jules Brame considered the joke not only in bad taste, but insulting. He sought out his comrade, and, finding him in the saloon, he reproached him angrily in the hearing of the crowd, insisting that he should apologize openly then and there. D. D. resenting his friend's attitude toward him, declined to apologize; a duel, therefore, in accordance with French habits and customs, was inevitable. Seconds were at once chosen; and in their Pierrot costumes the antagonists started for the Bois de Boulogne. Fortunately the duel did not end fatally, as seems to be the case in Jerome's picture, for, although Brame ran his sword right through D. D.'s body, no vital organ was touched. He recovered very quickly and the two antagonists became fast friends again.

It Applied to Both.

Justice Maule once went on circuit with Judge Coleridge in a part of the country where the high sheriff was a shy and modest man and very much alarmed at having to entertain his cynical lordship. Coming home in his coach with the two judges, he thought it his duty to make conversation for them. He observed that he hoped there would be better weather, as the moon had changed. "And are you such a fool, Mr. Jones, as to imagine that the moon has any effect on the weather?" said Maule. "Really, my lord," said Coleridge, who was politeness itself, "you are very hard upon our friend. For my part, I think the moon has considerable effect upon it." "Then," said Maule, "you are as great a fool as Jones is." After which conversation in the sheriff's carriage languished.

SHE HAD HIS CLOTHES.

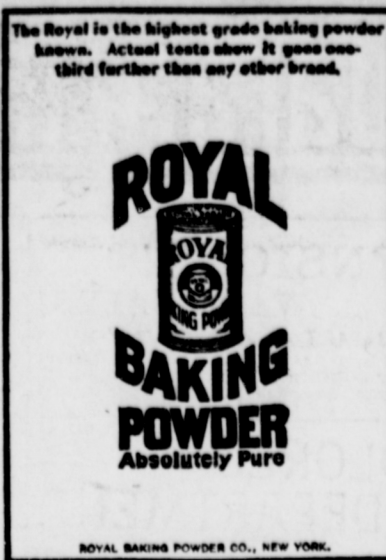

Joseph Sutton, colored, was in trouble again last night. He complained at police headquarters that Mollie Clark, colored, had his clothes. The police found them at her house in a sack. She is the same woman who was indicted at the last term of court for shooting at him five times on the street, because he married another woman. She afterwards came near killing him with a bottle. No arrests were made.

You take no risk on Plantation Chili Cure, as it is guaranteed to cure.

EXCURSION RATES TO CAIRO.

The grand free street fair at Cairo lasting from October 11th to the 15th, will be inaugurated next Tuesday by the greatest steamboat race that has ever taken place since the famous Lee-Natchez race. The steamer Dick Fowler will during this time make a one fare for the round trip, tickets good returning until the 15th. She will leave the wharf here at 8 a. m., arriving at Cairo at noon, remaining there until 6 p. m. each day of the fair.

On Tuesday the great naval parade will take place in which over thirty boats will participate, winding up with the great race, $1,000 being donated by the city to the winner. The citizens of Cairo have spared no expense to make this occasion a great success, and the steamer Dick Fowler will do her part toward affording the best opportunity for our people to enjoy the free state fair.

NOVEL FISH HOOK.

How Mr. Al Trotter Caught a Huge Buffalo Fish.

Messrs. Al Trotter and Finis Dunn went across the river fishing yesterday, and spent considerable time about a drift pile, where the buffalo fish and others of the finny tribe are wont to feed. Mr. Trotter saw a huge buffalo fish hovering about a log, and reaching down, used his finger for a fish hook and caught the fish. There was a struggle for supremacy, and after the boat had been capsized and Mr. Trotter saved by holding to a log, as well as the fish, he landed the monster and brought him to the city. He was weighed on Mr. G. W. Robertson's scales, and tipped the beam at 26 3/4 pounds.

TO CURE NERVOUS DYSPESIA.

To Gain Flesh, to Sleep Well, to Know What Appetite and Good Digestion Mean, Make a Test of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Interesting Experience of an Indianapolis Gentleman.

No trouble is more common or more misunderstood than nervous dyspepsia. People having it think that their nerves are to blame, are surprised that they are not cured by nerve medicines and spring remedies; the real seat of mischief is lost sight of; the stomach is the origin to be looked after.

Nervous dyspepsia often do not have any pain whatever in the stomach, nor perhaps any of the usual symptoms of stomach weakness. Nervous dyspepsia shows itself not in the stomach so much as in nearly every other organ; in some cases the heart palpitates and is irregular; in others, the kidneys are affected; in others the bowels are constipated, with headaches; still others are troubled with loss of flesh and appetite, with the accumulation of gas, sour risings and heartburn.

Mr. A. W. Sharper, No. 61 Prospect St., Indianapolis, Indiana, writes as follows: "A motive of pure gratitude prompts me to write these few lines regarding the new and valuable medicine, Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. I have been a sufferer from nervous dyspepsia for the last four years; have used various patent medicines and other remedies without any favorable result. They sometimes gave temporary relief until the effects of the medicine wore off. I attributed this to my sedentary habits, being a bookkeeper with little physical exercise, but I am glad to state that the tablets have overcome all these obstacles, for I have gained in flesh, sleep better, and am better in every way. The above is written not for notoriety, but is based on actual facts."

Respectfully yours,
A. W. SHARPER,
61 Prospect St., Indianapolis, Ind.

It is safe to say that Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will cure any stomach weakness or disease except cancer of the stomach. They cure sour stomach, gas, loss of flesh and appetite, sleeplessness, palpitation, heartburn, constipation and headaches. Send for valuable little book on stomach diseases by addressing Stuart Co., Marshall, Mich. All druggists sell full sized packages at 50 cents.

is a strong proposition: —the strongest ever known to tobacco-chewers. It is not "cheap" tobacco because it is sold at a low price. It is the very best piece of chewing tobacco ever sold at any price, and it is possible and profitable to sell a large piece of this high-grade tobacco at so low a price because there is five times more of it sold than any other kind in the world.

DIED OF WANT.

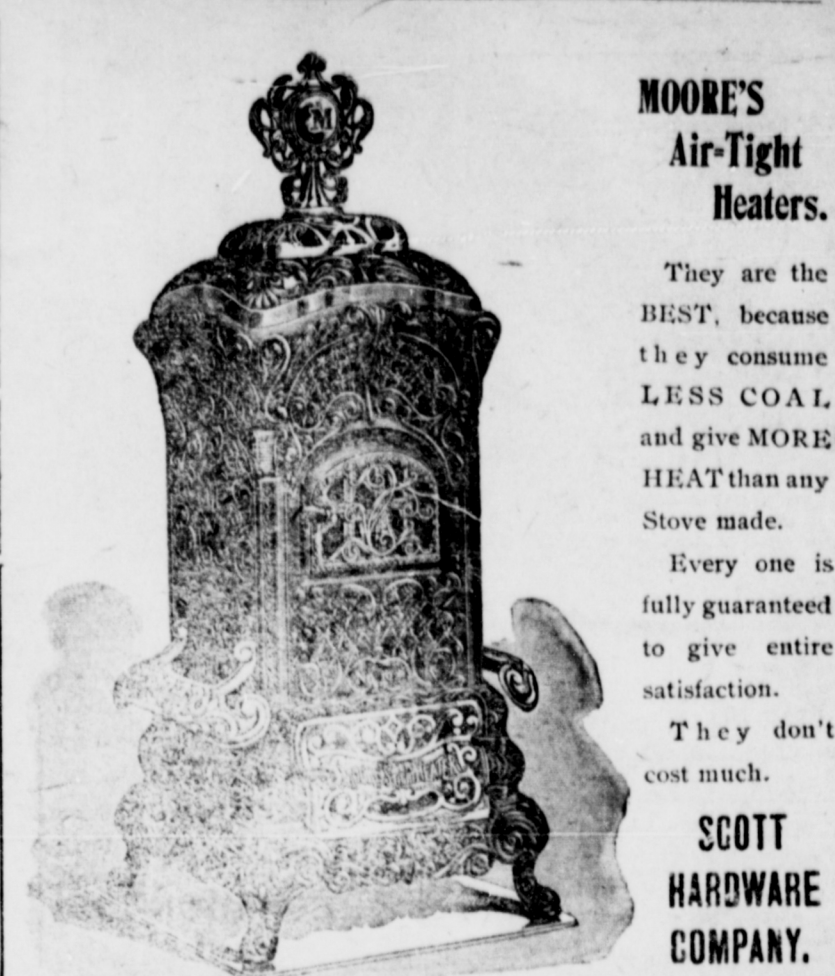

A four-year-old girl of W. S. Dunn, who lives in a small cabin near Oakes, on the N. C. & St. L. railroad, died yesterday from want, it is alleged. It seems her father is ill and her mother left home or was driven away. There are three other children that need attention.

An elegant set of nickel plated ware given free with every Majestic Range sold this week. See range in operation in our store. Geo. O. Hart & Son.

COURT ADJOURNED.

Fiscal court adjourned yesterday afternoon, and all the magistrates from the country have returned home. It was in session three days, and transacted considerable business. The new poor house keeper, Mr. Sam Sneed, will not go into office until December.

Stoves put up by experienced workmen at Scott Hardware Co.'s.

MOORE'S Air-Tight Heaters.

They are the BEST, because they consume LESS COAL and give MORE HEAT than any Stove made.

Every one is fully guaranteed to give entire satisfaction.

They don't cost much.
